Park Tax Issue Aired

The tax commission last opened the door slightly to a possible change in the Grayling Recreation Development Corp., operating Mountain Park.

Purnell, chairman of the County Board of Supervisors, told the commission that its action on the tax issue would be illegal.

The county tax assessor last Friday that the $200,000 would therefore not be spread upon Grayling Township's 1968 tax roll to property owners.

The $200,000 figure was described by Bernard Fowler, county board chairman, as a "token" value of the assets at Bear Mountain park for property tax purposes.

The move to increase the Grayling Township tax value by $200,000 was aimed at testing whether the non-profit Recreation Development Corp. could be tapped as a tax revenue source.

Purnell advised previously by letter to the board that, under the permit as granted by the Michigan National Guard for use of the state-owned property, the corporation must be non-profit and its assets such as buildings must revert to the Guard, and that these assets must be defined as non-taxable.

He confirmed this ruling last Thursday, but added that the ruling was "tentative," and that the action would be confirmed as official probably in 20 days.

He said later, however, that if the county board agrees to continue with its test case that it can petition the tax commission for reversal of its Thursday ruling.

He said that if Crawford can present a legal case for challenging the current non-taxable, non-profit definition of the park development corp., then the case would go to the state attorney general for a ruling.

The legal footwork involved, he said, could extend through three to five years.

The park, itself, has been beset with long delays in its development timetable.

Born in 1864, assisted by federal grants and loans, tied by long political, legal and organizational negotiations, hamstrung by inherited debt from the original Grayling Winter Sports operation, the facility last skiing season came into its own.

John H. Alef, president of the Grayling State Bank, estimated on the basis of cash flow through the bank during the winter months that the park generated $250,000 in new business last ski season.

Louis Stillwagon, president of the Recreation Development Corp., said the park employed some 40 persons last winter, in effect created 40 new jobs and the resultant wages paid these workers were absorbed into the Grayling area economy.

The tax issue involving Bear Mountain can be traced back to a nagging problem. About 65 per cent of the land area in Crawford County is government owned — and non-taxable.

The land left in private hands must take on the burden of paying for the ever-mounting call for governmental services — schools, policing, fire protection, roads — and year-around residents here are feeling the load.

The projections for Bear Mountain are grandiose.

It could be one of the biggest tourist lures in this area.

It could generate thousands of new visitors year-around, under long-range development plans for the park — plans that as of now are hardly off the ground.

It could offer a haven for scores of disadvantaged children from the congested south state and metropolitan areas.

It could serve as a training (See Tax Issue — Page 10)

Blood Bank Here July 30

This year, 1968, marks the 20th anniversary of voluntary blood donations through the Red Cross. Michigan citizens numbering many thousands have donated their blood, saving many American lives in civilian hospitals, and on the battlefield during the Korean War. Today, 20 years later, with new medical techniques, highly sophisticated equipment and skilled surgeons, many more lives have been saved through "open heart surgery," and the transfusion of blood is the vital element between success and failure. So, give a pint of blood next week — give the gift of a lifetime. July 30 at the American Legion Hall, noon till 6 p.m.

NEW SATURDAY HOURS AT P.O.

Postmaster James Post announced today that effective Saturday, July 27, window service hours at the local post office will be from 8:00 a.m. to 10:00 a.m.

He also stated that no financial transactions will be made, including stamp sales, money orders, box rent, and meter settings during those two hours.

This will be for Saturdays only until further notice. City, rural and star route deliveries will not be affected.

Mason Chapel Vandalized

The Sheriff's Department was notified Sunday by Bernard Fowler of an act of vandalism to the Mason chapel on the South Branch, in which about a quarter of each side of the slate roofing at the rear had been ripped off and some used as a windbreak for building a fire just outside the entrance to the chapel and some thrown inside the building and smashed.

Notification was given to the Conservation Department also at the same time.

Sheriff's deputy Bob Ruddy and Conservation Officer Duane Brooks made a trip of inspection to the chapel and found the damage listed above. Investigation was immediately begun and leads have been turned up indicating the vandalism was done by canoeists on the South Branch according to Deputy Ruddy. Investigation is being continued.

Police Issue Three Summonses, Arrest One

City Police issued a summons July 17 to Marjorie M. Koivunen, 57, of Grayling for careless driving, to Charles Ray Beers, 21, of Frederic July 21 for excessive speed; to Donald G. Valentyne, 22, of Grayling July 21 for excessive speed; and to Edward J. Croft, 25, of Grayling for excessive speed, July 21. They have or will appear before Justice Williamson.

On July 21 City Police arrested William LaMotte of Grayling on the charge of disorderly conduct. He was released on the 22nd pending further investigation.

Crawford County Recreational Activities

The 125 miles of canoeing trails in Crawford County are ideal for this prime recreational activity in the Grayling Area.

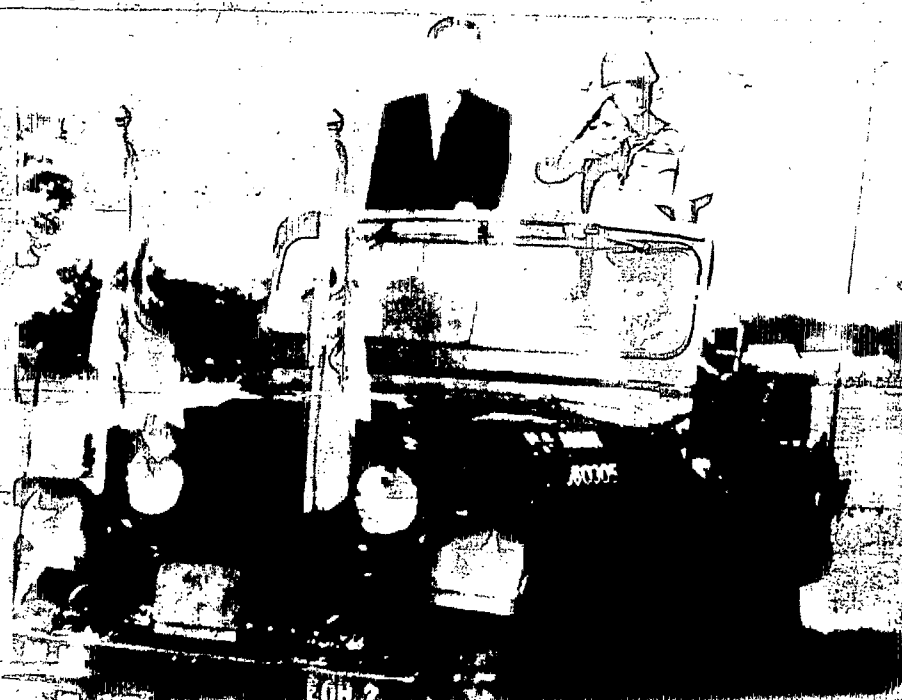

The Upper Manistee River, the AuSable River — main stream and south branch are the peaceful havens for hundreds of canoeers during these pleasant summer days. Stream levels are normal and water temperatures cool. There are ample picnic grounds and camp sites available. Day-time canoeists and canoe campers will have nothing but pleasant memories of the time spent in the Canoeing Capital of the United States.

Trout fishing continues fair with Wakeley's Yellow Bug, Madsen's Skunks and Hoppers taking over as the flies to use during the day. These flies fished close to the banks will bring the big ones out. Activity continues during the evening, but selective feeding of the trout makes for frustrated fishermen at times.

Pan fishing remains good on all area lakes with Lake Margrethe, KP Lake and Lake Shupac furnishing the best activity. All facilities at Hartwick Pines State Park are open. Scheduled nature hikes and lectures are given on Saturdays, Sundays, and Mondays.

Keep our region free of litter. We can all spare a dime or a quarter to give to this worthy project. Within the next week or ten days we will have canisters around town. Also the Grayling Bank will accept any donation you care to give. So save your pennies for us. We'll need your time later. After our next meeting, we will let you know how we are progressing.

GOVERNOR GEORGE ROMNEY and Brigadier General Carson Maffett shown here reviewing the Michigan National Guard.

Romney Reviews Troops

Gov. George Romney told 6,300 members of the Michigan, Indiana and Ohio National Guards they must have faith in their fellow man and support him in his need for change.

"The winds of change are blowing in the world and one of the things we can be thankful for is that our Constitution provides for change and recognizes that we must change if we are going to progress," he said. "But it must come about peacefully and without violence."

The Governor spoke to the men at the annual Governor's review and memorial parade Saturday at Camp Grayling.

Romney said changes are occurring in Michigan and Detroit with the formation of the new Detroit Committee, changes on the part of employers and self-help organizations in the state.

He also made reference to Legislative action which has brought about social justice, better housing, and has enacted stiffer laws for those who make Molotov cocktails and prevent firemen and other public officials from doing their duties.

"Since we met a year ago, we have not only had the experience of the Detroit riot, but we have also had the experience this spring of being able to act promptly, with your help, to make certain that no riot would get underway, and that prompt and preventative action worked," he said.

Romney called for each Guardsman to practice better human relations and to treat all persons with human dignity.

"What they want is human dignity and that involves attitudes, communication and individual relationships in our everyday activities," he said.

He also commended the Michigan Guard for the pilot-camp program which provided 200 youths with the opportunity to go to camp this summer.

"I think it significant that at this review we have a group of underprivileged boys who are here as your guests," he said. "This is a small thing in itself, as are other programs at this stage, but many little things make big things and, after all, the whole world is made up of little things."

Romney also said the minority groups wish to become a part of the American Dream.

"None of us are going to be a part of the American Dream unless we grant full citizenship to all and unless we reverse the decline of faith and the great principles on which the American Dream is based," he said. "The American Dream is faith in God, personal accountability to an almighty God and government by consent and representation of the people."

Romney said the Guard learned lessons from the Detroit riot the most important one being that prompt and adequate action must be taken.

"While the performance of the Michigan National Guard was unimpaired and unfairly criticized at the time by some who had not had such an experience since then the wisdom of efforts made at that time has been generally recognized and indeed the whole policy in respect to the handling of riots has been reshaped to reflect what we tried to do on that occasion," he said.

Romney said another lesson was the need for better training in connection with riots and this training has been given.

"I want to thank the members of the Michigan National Guard present who served the people of this state in the past year and thus have honored those who have gone on," he said.

"God bless all of you serving Him and your country."

Huron Shores District Champs

By Harry Miller

Huron Shores, defending State Champions from Alpena, were crowned District 1 Champs here this past week.

The weather man played havoc on Thursday when it drizzled all day, with periodical downpours which caused calling off ballgames throughout the day. The ground crews, however, made a great effort to keep the infield in playing condition, and play was completed at 8:15 p.m.

Thursday found Oscoda downing Rogers City 4-0. West Branch tossed out Grayling 4-0. Friday the weather turned sunny and Huron Shores clipped Oscoda 1-0 on an unearned run. West Branch was victorious over Alpena 3-1. Saturday, Huron Shores 3, West Branch 1, for the championship. Pitching was outstanding and all teams were well drilled. What impressed me most was the fine sportsmanship shown by the boys, proving again Little League is most worthwhile.

Many people in Grayling donated many hours in making this tourney a great success. If I mentioned every name of those who helped I would need paper stretching from Grayling to Huron Shores. However, I can say Little League is proud of you Mom and Dad and thanks a dug-out full.

Major League action resumed this week of July 27. Legion and Military on Monday and Wednesday. Moose and Sorensens on Tuesday and Thursday. Come out to the park. Support your Little League.

MEET HERE TO COMBINE EFFORTS

Recently representatives from churches, organizations, service clubs and just interested people met to talk about our "overlapping" charity. "Overlapping" charity means just this. Every Christmas, churches, organizations, clubs and people provide baskets of food, clothing and toys for needy families. But there has never been a clearing house never been a system and so it turned out that there have been too many duplicate names. Maybe three or four organizations or churches have the same names. So what happens? Some families who are not so needy end up with two or three baskets and some in need end up with none. The purpose of the new organization is to correct this and work together, in other words, to pool resources and do a bigger and better job on charity.

The new group is the Crawford County Community Service Organization.

This will in no way affect the individual organization from having its own special project, such as the Woman's Club annual Golden Age party or the American Legion Christmas party. The project will not be just for the over-worked organizations or the "over-canvassed" businessman but for every one.

We can all spare a dime or a quarter to give to this worthy project. Within the next week or ten days we will have canisters around town. Also the Grayling Bank will accept any donation you care to give. So save your pennies for us. We'll need your time later. After our next meeting, we will let you know how we are progressing.

AuSable Canoe Marathon To Start At Grayling 11 a.m. August 3rd

Kenneth Carlisle, representative of the Grayling Regional Chamber of Commerce for the 22nd Annual Canoe Race, has announced that plans are completed for the marathon run from Grayling to Oscoda, beginning at Grayling on Saturday, August 3rd.

The professional class this year will be actually starting the race from the lawn of the Crawford County Court House at 11:00 a.m. The timing will start from the Court House with contestants portaging their canoes east on Peninsula Street to Ingham Street, then south on Ingham to Ray's Canoe Livery. To date there are 30 teams entered in the professional class.

The amateur class of approximately 30 entries will start on the River at Ray's Canoe Livery after the professional class has gotten under way, and will be started by "starters" at 30-second intervals. The starters for the amateur class will be Bernard Fowler and Don Feldhauser of Grayling, a job they have held for the past few years.

Officially firing the cannon and flagging both starts, amateur and professional classes, will be Miss Vicki Scheer, Miss Grayling of 1968, and A. J. "Bud" Sorenson, Mayor of the City of Grayling.

Members of the Grayling Regional Chamber of Commerce will be selling AuSable River and Manistee River Canoe Patches to defray expenses of the Canoe Race.

The race will be held over in Mio on Saturday night and racers will resume positions and start Sunday morning, August 4, with winning entrants coming into Oscoda at approximately 4:00 p.m., Sunday afternoon.

Spectators viewing the Grayling start of the race beginning at 11:00 a.m. can expect the racing canoes to be at Stephens Bridge at approximately 12:30 p.m., Wakeley Bridge at 1:00 p.m., McMaisters Bridge at 2:15 p.m., Parmalee Bridge at 3:30 p.m., and at Mio at approximately 5:30 p.m.

On Friday evening, August 2, 7:00 p.m., sprint races will be held on the mill pond adjacent to the City Park.

The World's Championship Canoe Marathon has, after 20 years finally relaxed the rules to allow women contestants.

While the professional race, 16 hours or longer over the two days is felt to eliminate women automatically, the amateur race being only six hours on Saturday and four hours on Sunday, is expected to draw at least one or two mixed teams, from Indiana and Illinois where there has been a stiff competition in women's races and in mixed races.

Another added feature to the race is a sprint course at Mio where a total of $75 will be paid for the fastest time on a sprint course in Mio pond above the dam. This plus the pro sprint at Grayling Friday night will give the spectators a real chance to view the paddlers at their very best.

Tornado Warning Siren to Be In Operation

Beginning this week, a tornado warning siren will officially come into use. The siren will be in effect from then on, in case a tornado is ever sighted south or west of the area. The alarm can be turned in only by Chris Gentry, severe storm reporter for Crawford County, or the state police.

The siren will sound a long, steady two minute blast, similar to the noon whistle. This will warn residents to take shelter immediately.

Although Crawford County doesn't have many tornadoes, if one were ever sighted, the siren would be the only way that all residents could be alerted.

If you see a tornado, it is requested that you phone Chris Gentry, 348-9644, and give full details of your sighting, or call the Crawford County Sheriff.

Guard Boys' Camp Very

CITY youths from Detroit and Pontiac have a ball at the Michigan National Guard summer camp.

Michigan National Guard Boys' Camp is apparently quite a hit at least five boys departed in the first team which ended Sunday. They decided they enjoyed it, they came back with a new group which arrived after noon.

The group, 78 boys from the city of Detroit and Pontiac, will visit many of the area's points of interest during the week's program.

Lt. Col. Henry Van Campen said the success of the first week's program could be measured by the five boys who returned for the second week.

"The program is run on a quota basis, with the selection made by social agencies in Detroit," he said. "The quota was not filled, and they wanted to come back so we let them."

LTC Van Campen said more youths may be picked up Tuesday as the boys who were here last week tell their parents and friends about the camp.

The boys will be supervised by a cadre of 15 National Guardsmen.

Curse of Lawlessness

Tolerance of violence and property destruction diminish when the price of our "permissiveness" hits home. An inkling of that price is given by a spokesman for the insurance industry. He says, "No business . . . can continue to operate in a society where order, reason and confidence do not prevail. The insurance business alone cannot continue to offer security to property owners when these spasms of lawlessness which at times seem to approach insurrection become so prevalent and frequent."

No business or industry can turn a wheel without insurance. Legislation is now pending in Congress for the federal government — the taxpayers provide reinsurance. However much one may desire further involvement of government in the social and economic life of the nation, the alternative in this instance are even more grim. Excessive losses could bring about a total collapse of insurance coverage in metropolitan centers. Whether taxpayers could then be expected to assume the awesome cost of rebuilding and insuring is doubtful.

Reestablishment of law and order in the land is the only permanent solution. On this depends the survival of a nation. We should not lose sight of the fact that a subsidy for anarchy in the form of taxpayer guaranteed insurance coverage for the insurable risk of urban warfare is a stopgap measure. It will ease for the time being the pain of the disease, but it most surely will not cure the ills that afflict this nation.

"WINDOWS OF THE SOUL" FILM TO SHOW

A film from the Moody Institute of Science called "Windows of the Soul" will be shown at Calvary Baptist Church, 808 Chestnut St., Grayling, Sunday, July 28 at 7:30 p.m. This film shows the wonder and the mystery of the senses of sight, hearing, touch, smell and taste and how beautifully these sensory organs are designed to make possible life on this earth. Experiments in "silent" sound, "seeing" odors and an impressive demonstration of how we "see" with our brains are included. It considers the entire spectrum of electro-magnetic and sound waves and reveals that we are almost totally blind and deaf. Our minds are also prone to err in interpreting sensory information. These things emphasize the folly of basing eternal judgments on what we learn through our senses.

This is the second of a series of Moody Science films that Calvary Baptist Church anticipates showing to explain the mysteries of our world and of God. Admission is free and the public welcome.

SCOUTING OUTING FOR DADS AND SONS

The first Council-wide Webelos Dad and Son Overnight camp was an exciting experience for most of the 81 Webelos Cub Scouts and 74 dads. The event was held (July 13-14) at the Paul Bunyan Scout Reservation, north of Rose City, with participants from 18 packs in Midland, Beaverton, West Branch, Wurtsmith Airforce Base, Rose City, Grayling, Coleman, East Tawas and Averill.

Director of the event was Cecil Hyde, West Branch, assisted by Bert O'Connell, Midland, under the direction of David J. Zluticky, District Executive.

During Saturday morning the Webelos watched the regular Boy Scout Campers as they were concluding their week of camp with a Water Carnival. This included swimming, canoe, and row boat races, gunnelling, and many games, including battling in the water to carry out a greased watermelon.

The afternoon program provided the teams of dads and sons with opportunity to fire on the rifle range, try their skill with bow and arrow; the first time over for several of them. They appreciated the cooling swim as the temperature reached the high 80's.

Cooking supper together, over an open wood fire, tested their skill, while pitching their tents and making up ground beds was a challenge to some. One grey-haired dad said, "This is the first camping I've done since my Army days; I didn't remember it as being this much fun!"

Campfire songs and stunts completed Saturday, and Sunday saw them up early, with much shouting and good chopping as they prepared breakfast before getting into uniform for Church. Catholic boys went to Mass at the beautiful Lady of the Woods shrine, while Rev. Joseph H. Ahlert, pastor of the First United Methodist Church, Oscoda, conducted a service on the shores of Lake Paul for the Protestant worshippers.

A final swim Sunday morning concluded the outing. These events are made possible through the facilities of the Paul Bunyan Council, which is supported by the United Community Fund of Midland County, the Oscoda, Oscoda, Wurtsmith Community Chest, the Tawas Whittemore Area Community Chest, and sustaining memberships from the other 12 communities of the seven-county Paul Bunyan Council.

SOIL DISTRICT TO HOLD ANNUAL MEET

The Crawford-Roscommon Soil Conservation District will hold its first Annual Meeting on July 27, at the Chief Shoppens Motor Hotel at 8:00 p.m. This meeting will include election of two new directors to fill vacancies on the District Board.

The nominating committee, appointed to select candidates for the election named Jeremy Jones, Roscommon; Harry Martin, St. Helen; and Louise Sullenger, Houghton Lake to run for election. Others wishing to run may be nominated at the annual meeting.

The arrangements and program for the annual meeting were completed at the District Directors last Board meeting. The Directors reviewed the annual program of work, as presented by the planning committee, and approved it. The annual program of work stresses conservation education for the coming year.

The Board approved requests for assistance from Frank Lubinski, Frederic Township; Joseph Gorski, Lovells Township; and Allen Worthmann, Lovells Township.

Conservation plans completed by William Foley, Markey Township; Mrs. Louise Sullenger, Markey Township; and Frank Johnson, Beaver Creek Township were reviewed by the Board. The Directors reviewed and approved the annual treasury books audit. Mrs. Barber, Roscommon County Building, audited the books.

The regular District Board meetings are on the second Tuesday of each month and are open to the public.

ITEM: When you dust walls as a prelude to painting, be sure to use a clean, dry mop or cloth. Don't use an oil mop or a treated cloth. The oil and other substance may leave a thin film on the wall which will prevent the new paint from adhering properly.

Canadian Extension Agents Visit Area

By Willard Bossorman
County Extension Natural Resource Agent

It is not news that people from all over the United States and Canada visit this vacation land in Roscommon and Crawford Counties. It is a little different when some of the visitors stop by on a study tour. This is the case when Ernest Ens and Al Walls of Winnipeg, Manitoba stopped by last week. They were on a study tour to learn how Michigan Extension Agents are doing extension natural resource work.

After telling them of some of the programs in which I am involved in these two counties we took a tour of our natural and man made resources. Ens exclaimed that the canoe trip down the South Branch was the highlight of their trip to Michigan.

They also toured Bear Mountain Park, the Higgins and Houghton Lake areas. They had spent a day in Ann Arbor and three days of the Campus of Michigan State University. On their return trip they were to stop at the Emmet and Delta Counties.

Their district is the home of the Canadian goose. It is situated between Lake Winnipeg and Lake Manitoba with many natural features similar to northern Michigan.

JUDGE KRAUS DISTRICT COURT

JUDGE KRAUS answers questions about the new DISTRICT COURT

- Q — And the Legislature made up the District Court?
A — Yes, at their most recent session.
- Q — What kinds of cases will the District Court handle?
A — The District Court will handle civil cases involved in amounts up to $3,000. The J. P. courts could never handle cases above $300 to $500, so in these civil matters, the District Court is not only taking over all the work of the J. P. court, but some of the workload of the Circuit Court.
- Q — What about criminal cases?
A — The District Court will handle all minor crimes (misdemeanors), and preliminary examinations in major crimes (felonies), which are then referred to the Circuit Court. It will also handle local ordinance and charter violations. It will have the power to issue warrants, subpoena witnesses, require evidence and punish contempt. It may also conduct civil marriage ceremonies. Appeals from District Court decisions may be made to the Circuit Court.
- Q — How does the District Court fit in with all the other courts we have in the state?
A — As we have seen, most lesser cases will have their first hearing in District Court. Major cases start in Circuit Court, which is called a court of "general jurisdiction." Next is the Appellate Court, which handles most of the cases appealed from lower courts. At the top is the Supreme Court, the final court of appeal, which also administers the entire judicial system of the state.
- Q — You didn't mention your own court, Probate Court.
A — Probate Court is a county court, and like the District Court has "limited" jurisdiction. Probate Court is established by the State Constitution, and it deals with certain special kinds of cases involving estates, family problems, dependents and juvenile delinquency. Both Probate and District Court come under the Circuit Court. District Court covers a wider range of cases, and a larger territory—in our case both Crawford and Roscommon Counties.
- Q — Where will the District Court hold its sessions?
A — The district court is required by law to sit at each county seat. In our 3rd district, that means at Roscommon, for Roscommon County, and at Grayling, for Crawford County. If there were other cities in the district with a population of at least 3,250 people, the court would also have to sit there. However the law also permits the judge to hold court in other locations in the district as well, if the facilities and the case-load should justify his doing so.
- Q — How often will the District Court meet—once every three months like the Circuit Court?
A — The District Court must sit in each county at least once a week, in facilities provided by the county.
- Q — Will the district court have juries?
A — Yes, the district court according to law may have a jury of six members. The law requires agreement by five out of six to reach a verdict in civil cases, and six out of six in criminal cases.
- Q — Judge Kraus, are you the only judge running for District Court?
A — Yes. To my knowledge, there are only two active judges who reside in the 3rd District. Probate Judge Howard B. Gaylor of Roscommon County is one, and he is not running for district judge. I am the other.

Will Hester Continue?

At this point it does little good to again re-emphasize the shock and horror felt by all thinking citizens over the second Kennedy assassination.

Perhaps it would be more fruitful to contemplate some aspects of these tragedies in the hope that some constructive dialogue can be generated.

It is significant that the alleged killer was a non-citizen from the mid-east who apparently was disturbed emotionally by a viewpoint expressed by his victim over the course this nation should take in a dispute involving his homeland.

It is also significant that the alleged killer was a refugee immigrant brought here during one of the operable bloody centuries. For some time many liberals have worked to open the gates of America to an unlimited flood of immigrants using the rationale that the nation was founded by immigrants from the old world.

But there is this difference. It is a matter of record that many of the nation's early immigrants left their native countries to avoid military service.

This does not mean these early settlers were cowards, as it took a lot of raw courage to venture into the unknown. But their desire was to escape emensities in the centuries of warfare waged in the old world through kings, princes and other strange fanning up old hatreds. They were quite happy to forsake these old hatreds to settle here.

But in the past few years, the National Federation of Independent Business ground for a whole new generation of skiers — a winter sport that has changed the concept of the Michigan tourist industry from a summer-time activity to year-around.

PARK TAX ISSUE AIRED

These are the projections of Stillwagon and Alef.

Both admit that much must be done to fulfill such projections.

Both get enthusiastic when talking about possibilities.

Alef would like to see a new building at Bear Mountain to house artifacts to present the historical story of the Michigan National Guard — a story that is now told in bits and pieces.

He says historical artifacts, equipment, guns, flags, documents are now scattered in scores of armories and archives throughout the state.

"But if such a museum could be created here in Grayling, what a story it could tell — what an interesting museum it would be for the traveling public," he said.

Alef would like to see another museum created possibly devoted to antique autos and the auto industry that has meant so much to the economic stability and growth of Michigan.

There is talk of a possible golf course at Bear Mountain. The talk is enthusiastic. But the incentive to accomplish these dreams takes collective community backing.

The community backing theme is what is in back of the Bear Mountain dream. Without it, the park development could stagnate into a nightmare.

Stillwagon believes that the long-delayed completion of the polyhedron structure at the park could be accomplished by the first of December.

Bear Museum is a flurry of activity.

The snow-making apparatus has been purchased and operated last season. The improvement in the ski-tow operations at the park has been accomplished.

The park, despite a bad snow-condition season, did generate money in the till. The park was utilized by large groups of disadvantaged youth. It did serve local high school students interested in learning and competing on skis.

It did pay into the county tax coffers in the form of personal property taxes assessed lessees operating at the park.

Taken alone, these positive assets of the fledgling and sometimes stumbling park development could tend to overshadow errors of omission that were bound to occur.

Such omission, as brought out at the public meeting last Thursday with the state tax commission, include so-called "closed door" business meetings conducted by the Recreation Development Corp.'s board, failure to adequately publicize official actions of the board's financial transactions — all of which is called for from public agencies.

Stillwagon was asked about this. He said the current board of the Recreational Development Corp., is made up of ski enthusiasts who for the most part were involved in operations of the old Grayling Winter Sports Park.

He thought that possibly the time is not far off when a local park authority should be established. Then operations of the Bear Mountain park would become locally governmentally controlled.

It's another problem issue to be faced along the way.

The tax issue raised by the county board of supervisors involving the operations of the park and its assets, today and as projected in the future, is a vital one.

Board Chairman Fowler is concerned that as now constituted, the non-profit connotation of the park development corp. could eventually set a bad precedent both locally and statewide.

There is concern that in the foreseeable future the profits generated at the park could outstrip its costs of operation. Fowler asks that if this occurs, couldn't such profits be reverted back to the governmental agencies that must service the park.

Stillwagon suggested that such profits, if and when they occur, might be reverted back to the local governments "in lieu of taxes."

It is such long-range possibilities that apparently have triggered the tax test.

men and four officers. Preparing the mess will be the kitchen crew from the Nike base in Detroit.

One of the highlights of the first camp was a canoe trip down the AuSable River by 12 boys who won the cleanest tent contest. Borchers Canoe Livery in Grayling provided the canoes. The canoe trip experience for some of the boys was their very first.

Other businessmen in the Grayling area also opened their hearts and wallets to the youngsters. Because many of the boys arrived in Grayling without changes of underwear, towels, wash clothes, soap and other personal items, Jack Alef, president of the Grayling State Bank, and his bank board of directors donated $100 to purchase personal items for the youths.

Then to make the $100 go as far as possible, the Ben Franklin Store in Grayling gave a 10 percent discount on purchases made for the boys.
